About this marking scheme

The purpose of this marking scheme is to provide teachers, learners, and other interested parties, with an understanding of the assessment criteria used to assess this specific assessment.

This marking scheme reflects the criteria by which this assessment was marked in a live series and was finalised following detailed discussion at an examiners' conference. A team of qualified examiners were trained specifically in the application of this marking scheme. The aim of the conference was to ensure that the marking scheme was interpreted and applied in the same way by all examiners. It may not be possible, or appropriate, to capture every variation that a candidate may present in their responses within this marking scheme. However, during the training conference, examiners were guided in using their professional judgement to credit alternative valid responses as instructed by the document, and through reviewing exemplar responses.

Without the benefit of participation in the examiners' conference, teachers, learners and other users, may have different views on certain matters of detail or interpretation. Therefore, it is strongly recommended that this marking scheme is used alongside other guidance, such as published exemplar materials or Guidance for Teaching. This marking scheme is final and will not be changed, unless in the event that a clear error is identified, as it reflects the criteria used to assess candidate responses during the live series.

1C. DEPRESSION, WAR AND RECOVERY, 1930-1951

SUMMER 2025 MARK SCHEME

Instructions for examiners of GCSE History when applying the mark scheme

Positive marking

It should be remembered that learners are writing under examination conditions and credit should be given for what the learner writes, rather than adopting the approach of penalising him/her for any omissions. It should be possible for a very good response to achieve full marks and a very poor one to achieve zero marks. Marks should not be deducted for a less than perfect answer if it satisfies the criteria of the mark scheme.

GCSE History mark schemes are presented in a common format as shown below:

This section indicates the assessment objective(s) targeted in the question

Mark allocation:	AO1	AO2	AO3	AO4
4			4

Question: e.g. What can be learnt from Sources A and B about women's contribution to the war effort? [4]

This is the question and its mark tariff.

Band descriptors and mark allocations

	AO3 4 marks
BAND 2	Analyses and uses the content of both sources for the enquiry. If answer is imbalanced in use of sources award 3 marks.	3–4
BAND 1	Generalised answer with little analysis, paraphrasing or describing sources only.	1–2

Use 0 for incorrect or irrelevant answers

This section contains the band descriptors which explain the principles that must be applied when marking each question. The examiner must apply this when applying the marking scheme to the response. The descriptor for the band provides a description of the performance level for that band. The band descriptor is aligned with the Assessment Objective(s) targeted in the question.

Indicative content

This content is not prescriptive and candidates are not expected to refer to all the material identified below.

Some of the issues to consider are:

- Source A shows us that women were working on farmland.
- Source A shows women using farm machinery, replacing the men.
- Source A shows a group of women working in the fields as part of the Women's Land Army.
- Source A shows how women contributed to the war effort by doing work they were unfamiliar with.
- Source B tells us that women could be called to National Service in 1941.
- Source B tells us that women would serve similarly to men.
- Source B tells us that women served in the Royal Navy, Royal Air Force and Territorial Service.
- Source B tells us that women aged between 20-30 could be called up.

This section contains indicative content (see below under banded mark schemes Stage 2). It may be that the indicative content will be amended at the examiner's conference after actual scripts have been read. The indicative content is not prescriptive and includes some of the points a candidate might include in their response.

Banded mark schemes

Banded mark schemes are divided so that each band has a relevant descriptor. The descriptor for the band provides a description of the performance level for that band. Each band contains marks. Examiners should first read and annotate a learner's answer to pick out the evidence that is being assessed in that question. Once the annotation is complete, the mark scheme can be applied. This is done as a two stage process.

Banded mark schemes Stage 1 – Deciding on the band

When deciding on a band, the answer should be viewed holistically. Beginning at the lowest band, examiners should look at the learner's answer and check whether it matches the descriptor for that band. Examiners should look at the descriptor for that band and see if it matches the qualities shown in the learner's answer. If the descriptor at the lowest band is satisfied, examiners should move up to the next band and repeat this process for each band until the descriptor matches the answer.

If an answer covers different aspects of different bands within the mark scheme, a 'best fit' approach should be adopted to decide on the band and then the learner's response should be used to decide on the mark within the band. For instance if a response is mainly in band 2 but with a limited amount of band 3 content, the answer would be placed in band 2, but the mark awarded would be close to the top of band 2 as a result of the band 3 content. Examiners should not seek to mark learners down as a result of small omissions in minor areas of an answer.

Banded mark schemes Stage 2 – Deciding on the mark

Once the band has been decided, examiners can then assign a mark. During standardising (marking conference), detailed advice from the Principal Examiner on the qualities of each mark band will be given. Examiners will then receive examples of answers in each mark band that have been awarded a mark by the Principal Examiner. Examiners should mark the examples and compare their marks with those of the Principal Examiner.

When marking, examiners can use these examples to decide whether a learner's response is of a superior, inferior or comparable standard to the example. Examiners are reminded of the need to revisit the answer as they apply the mark scheme in order to confirm that the band and the mark allocated is appropriate to the response provided.

Indicative content is also provided for banded mark schemes. Indicative content is not exhaustive, and any other valid points must be credited. In order to reach the highest bands of the mark scheme a learner need not cover all of the points mentioned in the indicative content but must meet the requirements of the highest mark band.

Where a response is not creditworthy, that is contains nothing of any significance to the mark scheme, or where no response has been provided, no marks should be awarded.

Question 2

Mark allocation:	AO1	AO2	AO3	AO4
6	2		4

Question: To what extent does this source accurately explain why the Labour Party won the General Election in 1945? [6]

Band descriptors and mark allocations

	AO1 2 marks		AO3 4 marks
			Analyses and evaluates the accuracy of the source, set within the context of the historical events studied. The strengths and limitations of the source material are fully addressed and a substantiated judgement is reached.	4
BAND 2	Demonstrates detailed understanding of the key feature in the question.	2	BAND 2	Begins to analyse and evaluate the source. A judgement, with some support is reached, discussing the accuracy of the source material set within the historical context.
BAND 1	Demonstrates some understanding of the key feature in the question.	1	BAND 1	Very basic judgement reached about the source with little or no analysis or evaluation.

Use 0 for incorrect or irrelevant answers.

Indicative content

This content is not prescriptive and candidates are not expected to refer to all the material identified below. Some of the issues to consider are:

- The source is accurate to some extent in explaining Labour's 1945 election victory.
- It focuses on the issue of housing and states how a Labour government would control building new homes.
- It promises that every family will have good homes which was a vote winner following the devastation of many areas.
- It implies that the Conservative Party will not put the nation first.
- The source is an official document produced by the Labour Party for everybody to read. It aims to persuade voters that they will be the best choice of government in the election.
- It is not truly accurate as it stipulates every family and does not give a clear time for building houses; some points therefore lack clarity and are generalised.
- The source does not include other measures that the Labour Party offered voters.
- The source gives a partial explanation of how Labour won the general election.

A clear and supported judgment should focus on the accuracy of the information provided while recognising that other important contributing issues are not present.

Question 3

Mark allocation:	AO1	AO2	AO3	AO4
12	4	8

Question: Why was the British government's policy of appeasement significant during the 1930s? [12]

Band descriptors and mark allocations

	AO1 4 marks			AO2 8 marks
BAND 4	Demonstrates comprehensive knowledge and understanding of the key feature in the question.	4	BAND 4	Fully explains the issue with clear focus set within the appropriate historical context.	7–8
BAND 3	Demonstrates detailed knowledge and understanding of the key feature in the question.	3	BAND 3	Explains the issue set within the appropriate historical context.	5–6
BAND 2	Demonstrates some knowledge and understanding of the key feature in the question.	2	BAND 2	Begins to explain the issue with some reference to the appropriate historical context.	3–4
BAND 1	Demonstrates basic knowledge and understanding of the key feature in the question.	1	BAND 1	Mostly descriptive response with limited explanation of the issue.	1–2

Use 0 for incorrect or irrelevant answers.

Indicative content

This content is not prescriptive and candidates are not expected to refer to all the material identified below. Some of the issues to consider are:

- The British government's policy of appeasement was significant because it delayed the start of the war giving Britain time to rearm and prepare.
- The policy of appeasement was significant in supporting many Britons view that another large scale war in Europe should be avoided.
- The policy of appeasement was significant in leading to Hitler eventually invading Poland.
- The policy of appeasement was significant in damaging Britain's international reputation by not preventing Nazi Germany growing stronger.
- The policy of appeasement was significant in weakening Britain's voice among the League of Nations.
- The policy of appeasement was significant in causing political divisions before the war.
- The policy of appeasement was significant in allowing Germany to grow stronger in the face of a growing threat from the USSR.

Question 4

Mark allocation:	AO1	AO2	AO3	AO4
12	2	10

Question: Explain the connections between any THREE of the following: [12]

- Jarrow Crusade
- 'Making ends meet'
- Special Areas Acts
- Emigration from Wales

Band descriptors and mark allocations

	AO1 2 marks		AO2 10 marks
			BAND 4	Fully explains the relevant connections between the chosen features, set within the correct historical context.	8–10
			BAND 3	Explains the connections between the chosen features, set within the correct historical context.	5–7
BAND 2	Demonstrates detailed knowledge and understanding of the key features in the question.	2	BAND 2	Begins to explain the connections between the chosen features.	3–4
BAND 1	Demonstrates some knowledge and understanding of the key features in the question.	1	BAND 1	A basic, unsupported explanation of connections between the chosen features.	1–2

Use 0 for incorrect or irrelevant answers.

Indicative content

This content is not prescriptive and candidates are not expected to refer to all the material identified below. Some of the issues to consider are:

- The Jarrow Crusade is connected to 'making ends meet' as poverty, unemployment and inadequate government support made 'making ends meet' for many impossible which led to public demonstrations of hardship through hunger marches such as the Jarrow Crusade.
- The Jarrow Crusade is connected to the Special Areas Acts as they can be seen as a direct response to the demand raised by the protest marches.
- The Jarrow Crusade is connected to emigration from Wales because many Welsh families who supported the march and similar protests in the Rhondda did not see their lives improve, and consequently made the decision to move in search of work and a better future.
- 'Making ends meet' is linked to Special Areas Act as people living in the country's hardest hit economically deprived areas found 'making end meet' an immense challenge, leading the government to identify areas for Special Areas Act status that would create job opportunities and provide greater support.
- 'Making end meet' is connected to emigration from Wales as families who suffered challenging times moved in search of employment.
- Special Areas Acts is connected to emigration from Wales as many people were able to gain work in areas outside Wales that benefited from the opportunities for employment and ensuring that 'making ends meet' would not be a problem.

Question 5

Mark allocation:	AO1	AO2	AO3	AO4	SPaG
19	4			12	3

Question: How far do you agree with this interpretation that the BBC played a crucial role in keeping up morale during the Second World War? [16+3]

Band descriptors and mark allocations

	AO1 4 marks			AO4 12 marks
BAND 4	Demonstrates very detailed knowledge and understanding of the key feature in the question.	4	BAND 4	Fully analyses and evaluates how and why interpretations of this issue differ, demonstrating awareness of the wider historical debate over the issue. A well substantiated judgement about the accuracy of the interpretation is reached, set within the context of the historical events studied. The relevance of the authorship of the interpretation is discussed.	10–12
BAND 3	Demonstrates detailed knowledge and understanding of the key feature in the question.	3	BAND 3	Analyses and evaluates how and why interpretations of this issue differ. Some understanding of the wider historical debate over the issue is displayed. A clear judgement is reached, displaying understanding of how and why interpretations of the issue may differ. Appropriate reference is made to the authorship.	7–9
BAND 2	Demonstrates some knowledge and understanding of the key feature in the question.	2	BAND 2	Some analysis and evaluation of the interpretation and other interpretations is displayed. A judgement is reached with superficial reference made to authorship.	4–6
BAND 1	Demonstrates basic knowledge and understanding of the key feature in the question.	1	BAND 1	Makes simple comments about the interpretation with little analysis or evaluation. Little or no judgement reached.	1–3

Use 0 for incorrect or irrelevant answers.

Indicative content

This content is not prescriptive and candidates are not expected to refer to all the material identified below. Some of the issues to consider are:

- The interpretation states that the BBC played a crucial role in keeping up morale during the Second World War.
- The interpretation says that the BBC provided listeners with vital news and information about the war.
- The interpretation states that the BBC kept up morale by entertaining listeners and providing them with a distraction from the war.
- The author is an academic historian who has likely researched the topic thoroughly. With the focus of his publication the BBC his knowledge of how it operated during the war should be accurate. He may favour the view that the BBC played a crucial role in keeping up morale given the central theme of his book.
- Other interpretations might focus on the role of Winston Churchill as an effective wartime ruler.
- Other interpretations might focus on government campaigns such as Dig for Victory and the Spitfire fund.
- Another interpretation might emphasise other sources of propaganda and censorship disseminated by the Ministry of Information.
- A substantiated judgement about the accuracy of the interpretation offered by the author should identify that it is valid with regard to the important role played by the BBC in maintaining morale, whilst recognising this role may be overstated.

After awarding a level and mark for the historical response, apply the performance descriptors for spelling, punctuation and the accurate use of grammar (SPaG) and specialist language that follow.

Having decided on a band, award a second mark (out of 3) for SPaG. In applying these indicators:

- learners may only receive SPaG marks for responses that are in the context of the demands of the question; that is, where learners have made a genuine attempt to answer the question
- the allocation of SPaG marks should take into account the level of the qualification.

Band	Marks	Performance descriptions
High	3	• Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy • Learners use rules of grammar with effective control of meaning overall • Learners use a wide range of specialist terms as appropriate
Intermediate	2	• Learners spell and punctuate with considerable accuracy • Learners use rules of grammar with general control of meaning overall • Learners use a good range of specialist terms as appropriate
Threshold	1	• Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy • Learners use rules of grammar with some control of meaning and any errors do not significantly hinder meaning overall • Learners use a limited range of specialist terms as appropriate
	0	• The learner writes nothing • The learner's response does not relate to the question • The learner's achievement in SPaG does not reach the threshold performance level, for example errors in spelling, punctuation and grammar severely hinder meaning
